“ Maw Maw Renfroe was such a strong presence in our family. She was the best cook in the world, and I’m thankful she taught me to cook and to sew. She sewed so many dresses and outfits for me over the years. I learned about quilting from her too. I’ll always remember how she would make the sound of a quail, (or maybe it was a dove?) whenever she was walking over to our house. She could keep any plant alive. I loved going for “nature walks” with her. She was the sweetest person and just wanted to take care of everybody. I’m so very sad I can’t be there in person for the service, but I am there in spirit and I know she will always be with me ❤️

“ Best cook in the world! She could cook circles around that fool Bobby Flay! She knew what every plant was called, could make wine and jellies and jams! Make her own dresses! She could hoot like an owl and had the strongest hands for such a small lady! She could get a situation under control simply by saying “allright!” She was the sun around which all family gatherings orbited. She loved everyone unconditionally. She had a passion for being a nurse and everything from plants to people thrived in her presence! We were so lucky to have her! Five stars!!!
