“ Carroll Hood was an extraordinary person and I'll always be thankful that we were friends. He was extremely intelligent and, at the same time, very practical. Many will remember him for his business acumen and success, and rightly so. But of higher importance were his deep devotion to his family and his service to his county and state. He and Sis were a great team in every sense, and they set a good example for their children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and innumerable friends who were privileged to know the two of them. Carroll was a good citizen who will be greatly missed and never forgotten.
