“ There are no words, yet so many. We had a friendship that no one could ever take away. I'll see you again one day, my friend. I'm still numb, and in disbelief, but I'll be listening for those drums beating down from above. Life won't be the same, but memories I'll always have. Play that funky music white boy...I LOVE YOU DANNY!

“ Wipeout—we would have had dull pep rallies at Union Academy without Danny. Yes, he loved life fully and music and family and friends. He is a loss to those who were around him. But to me he will always be young, irrepressible, joyful, and a kid who never grew up. May God bless you with His comfort.
