

Lessie Jane Cross

April 19, 1944 - August 4, 2020

Lady Jane

She's got many gifts to give you,
The sweetest ones a smile.
The brightest star in heaven Lord.
A sweet and gentle child.
The men who've known the pleasure of standing by her side,
Will never feel the way I do,
It comes from deep inside.

So sing your song sweet Janie,
Sing one for me.
You were the beacon in my darkest night,
The only light I see.

The winds of change will blow around
And sweep across this land,
But you'll always be my Lady Jane,
My heart's held in my hand.

The song I sing tomorrow,

The song I sing today,
The words and the melody
Will fade and drift away.

But the one I sing for Janie,
Will live on in my heart
And keep me warm and comfort me
When we're far apart.

So sing your song sweet Janie.
Again before I go,
And I will add some harmony,
And let the feelings flow.

And when I tired of roaming
All across the land,
I'll return and Lady Jane
Will comfort me again.

I'll return and Lady Jane
Will comfort me again.

Watch on Youtube Lady Jane with Chauncey's Garden
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Tr33_-rthxs

Tribute Wall

“ Lessie Jane Cross

January 28, 2023 at 04:45 PM

“ Cindy Bishop lit a candle in memory of Lessie Jane Cross

Cindy Bishop - August 09, 2020 at 07:37 PM