“ Our condolences with love and prayers for you my Dear brother and precious sister in law whom is like my sister. Good Friday is this week in which we celebrate Jesus dying in the Cross and gave all he could his life blood ☐. No greater love ever! But we know Sunday is a Coming as he did not stay in that grave. “Up From The Dead He Arose” and He lives forever more. We can have that hope and assurance of being forever with him. By Repenting - believe on the Lord Jesus - asking him to save you-being Lord of your life.

“ You passed away on my birthday. I lit some sage for you last night. This red candle symbolizes Leo and Aries, for both your sun and moon sign. We spoke on alot of different topics including astrology, spirituality, religion, real life, reality I believe he has returned to star dust, to the one ness with everything. This man was a Giver, he was a helper, he was a good man who thought in a way that made you question your own beliefs. I wish I could continue to learn from you seth but everything comes to an end. I wish you an easy passover, so mote it be.

Meant to send a red candle not a cross but I guess it's the thought that counts

“ Seth was my brother in the christian path though our thoughts differed on many points it is my firm belief that upon his death he finally met the Christ he struggled to have faith in most of his life, if you see this mom, Seth was not a christian in that he struggled to find faith but through virtue and deed he walked with Christ regardless.
